Annexure 14– Best Practices (7.3)

Title of the Practice – THE WELLNESS CELL .....because you matter!!!

GOALS

Context

Wellness cell is an initiative started by Jai Hind College to make EVERYONE within the Jai Hind family, feel a sense of well-being at physical, emotional, mental and social levels and build a strong Jai Hind Culture by creating awareness about their thoughts, emotions, attitudes, behavior, sensations, perceptions and limitations.

The Practice

The Wellness Umbrella includes, Wellness programs designed for

- Students
- Teaching Staff
- Non-Teaching Staff

Wellness Cell is under the guidance of the Personal Counselor, Ms. Mahek Punjabi in co-ordination with Principal, the Vice Principals, teachers and the Students' Council. The aim is to spread awareness and practice preventive counseling on common issues faced by staff and students.

The Cell was inaugurated by Principal Dr Ashok Wadia on 12th February 2016. This was followed by a talk for the students, by the counselor, Mrs Mahek Punjabi on “BODY IMAGE - DON’T BUY THE LIE”. It was very well received and the students requested for many more sessions to be conducted

On 18th March 2016, a talk on “Life Skills” was conducted for the Class III employees and on 30th March 2016, a similar talk was conducted for the Class IV employees by the in-house counselor.

On 9th April 2016, speakers from Chinmaya Mission were invited to conduct a talk for teachers on “Emotional Transformation”

Evidence of Success

The feedback of all the above workshops was extremely positive and most participants want such workshops to be conducted periodically.

Wellness Cell is looking forward to conducting many more of these workshops in the coming academic year and appreciates the overwhelming response.

Problems encountered and Resources required

The enthusiastic responses received from all the groups has motivated the faculty to conduct many more such programs, However, managing a large number of students and faculty from all disciplines, with different time tables and individual constraints of the non-teaching along with limitations of time and availability of the laboratory compel us to hold limited sessions

Notes:

Relevant information which we feel will enhance the understanding and the profile of the cell

We look forward to the involvement of many more faculty members / retired faculty / alumni to serve as:

- Resource persons for the activities and workshops the cell can conduct.
- Mentors to the students who can benefit from the activities of the cell

Title of Practice:

Inculcation of a Research Culture at Jai Hind College

Goal:

To enhance research culture among faculty and students as per current needs of India and to compete as an excellent research institute on global map.

The Context:

Jai Hind is an under graduate college with a handful of departments with post graduate courses. In spite of being an undergraduate college, faculty and students are actively involved in research. To boost this activity institute took several initiatives.

The Practice:

The College applied for grants to DST under FIST. We received a sum of Rs 70,00,000/-. The Center for Research was established with UGC and FIST grants and help rendered by an alumnus, Mr. Mitesh Desai. The Centre for Research was inaugurated at the hands of the newly appointed Vice Chancellor Dr Sanjay Deshmukh.

It is state of art centre with high end instruments like Veego Melting Point apparatus ,Gibson fraction collector, Shimadzu Spectroflurimeter ,Shimatzu Differential scanning colorimeter Bioera gel rocker , HPLC, Rotary Evaporator, Refrigerated Centrifuge, Nanovoltmeter , Rotary shaker Incubator with temperature variation ,PCR machine and Gel doc. The working of double distillation unit was explained to the faculty as well as nonteaching staff.

To gain the confidence of faculty and PhD scholars a series of workshops were organized. Through collaborations with S. Kant, (LCGC), Chempure, Eureka Forbes, & Nirmala Niketan College of Home Science the teachers are now able to carry out research in the various fields.

Jai Hind College has signed an MOU with LCGC chrom consumables LLP which enable faculty to use facilities of LCGC for testing samples using high end instruments not available at Jai Hind College and also undertake hands – on training of instruments.

A talk on HPLC by Dr Sanjay Dhuri expert on HPLC from LCGC chrom consumable LLP was organized for science faculty and HPLC was demonstrated by Mr Ketan Sawant with samples of PhD scholars on HPLC instrument in centre for research in Jai Hind College. One faculty member is presently undergoing training of HPLC who in turn will be in house resource who will train faculty and students. Hands- on- training of HPLC was organized three times by Agilent technologies. Teachers and PhD scholars took advantage of this opportunity.

Mr Mitesh Desai director of LCGC chrom consumables LLP who is alumnus has donated seven lacks towards purchase of chemicals, glassware and equipment. He also helped design the interior of the centre for research. With his generosity stakeholders of the Science faculty will be immensely benefited.

To enhance interest of research in Science students a workshop on instruments was conducted for the students of the FY and SYBSc classes. Hands on training was given for using Rotary evaporator, melting point / boiling point apparatus, probe sonicator and binocular microscope with camera. The process of synthesis of nanoparticles with magnetic stirrer was also included. The number of student beneficiaries were 38. JHC faculty trained the students.

The management is proactive and supports the research activities by providing financial aid to faculty pursuing research work for PhD and teachers are given concession in time for their research work.

Evidence of Success

With the facilities available in the Center for Research faculty and students have taken up the challenge of increasing the quality and quantity of Research carried out at Jai Hind College. Many faculty members have applied for the BCUD / UGC minor projects. Many participate in International and National conferences and present the research work. ### Problems Encountered And Resources Required:

The main limitation is running cost of the equipments. Chemicals and consumables needed are expensive and money needs to be generated to support this activity.

College has undertaken following steps towards generation of funds

- Science departments are applying to DBT for Star College Award to get grants for the purchase of instruments, chemicals and consumables.
- Another problem encountered is maintenance of these high – end instruments. Steps are being taken towards the appointment of a fulltime technician who will monitor the smooth functioning of the laboratory.
- The Principal is also supporting the enhancement of research in the college by sending faculty to get trained and use high end instruments.
